

2017

Life Gets Better

Jessica Curlett
Dominican University of California

Survey: Let us know how this paper benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Curlett, Jessica (2017) "Life Gets Better," The Tuxedo Archives: Vol. 2012 , Article 10.
Available at: <https://scholar.dominican.edu/tuxedolit/vol2012/iss2/10>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Liberal Arts and Education at Dominican Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Tuxedo Archives by an authorized editor of Dominican Scholar. For more information, please contact michael.pujals@dominican.edu.

Life Gets Better

Jessica Curlett

It seems as days pass by in life

The world becomes overrun with strife.

The news forecasts storms

Both atmospherical and human,

and nation's leaders are constantly feuding.

The world is like a glass ball on a tack

And one more problem will cause it to crack.

Brother turns on brother,

friend betrays friend,

but I'm here to tell you,

this is not the end.

The past has been tough as history will show,

It's not that the world's dying,

We just see more as we grow.

We can let this cruel world crush us to bits,

or crawl from this muck and turn to our wits.

Wallowing will get us to nowhere fast,

let's look for a change that will actually last.

The darkness around us frightens our sights,

But we receive renewal

in each dawn's first light.

So let's run with this day and be future setters,
to show this cruel world that life does get better.